

Top Ten Tips for Avoiding (or Minimizing) Employment Claims

Thursday, November 16th, 2017 | 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. CST

There are many words that describe getting hit with an employment lawsuit – draining, expensive, painful ... and the list goes on. Here are 10 proven ways to avoid litigation or minimize the risk, including best practices for discipline and discharge, investigations, avoiding wage and hour and retaliation claims, the latest updates on policy language and tried-and-true methods for documenting. This program will give you the information you need to put these cost-effective, business-friendly tips into practice.

Tips Will Help:

- ✓ Lead to a better understanding of how employment laws apply to important human resource issues
- ✓ Help you implement practices that lead to better employee relations
- ✓ Help you address employment issues proactively, instead of reactively, and allow you the opportunity to focus on tasks that are more productive than litigation

Presenter: Attorney Mark Johnson, from Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart

Mark Johnson's experience representing employers in hundreds of employment law matters in both state and federal courts and before state and federal administrative agencies has also given him the opportunity to counsel and assist hundreds of employers on how to avoid litigation.
